Alle ansehen Nonprofit Explorer includes aggregates for non-commercial tax returns and a full form of 990 documents, both in PDF and digital. Consolidated data contains information processed by the IRS during the 2012-2018 calendar years; This usually consists of applications for the 2011-2017 fiscal year, but may include old entries. This release of data only includes a subset of what can be found in the full form of the 1990s. In addition to raw aggregates, we refer to PDF files and digital copies of documents with full form 990 if possible. This consists of separate IRS releases form 990 documents processed by the agency, which we regularly update. We also refer to copies of auditing nonprofits that have spent $750,000 or more in federal grants money in one fiscal year from 2016. These audits are copied from the Federal Clearing Clearance Center. What organizations are there? Every organization that has been deemed tax-exempt by the IRS must file a 990 form each year if they do not make less than $200,000 in income and less than $500,000 in assets, in which case they must file a 990-er form. Organizations earning less than $50,000 should not file either form, but must allow the IRS they are still in business through a 990N e-card form. The non-profit researcher has organizations applying for tax exemptions in each of the 27 subsections of the 501 (c) section of the Tax Code, and which have filed Form 990, Form 990E or Form 990PF. Taxable trusts and private funds, which are required to file a 990PF form, are also included. Small organizations, having applied for an e-card form 990N, are not included in this data. There are 27 non-profit designations based on the moderate subsections of Section 501 (c) of the Tax Code. See the list How to investigate tax-exempt organizations We have created a guide to investigate nonprofits for those who are just starting out, as well as for experienced pros. API Nutrition Data of this website is available programmatically, through the API. Read the API documentation Get data for those interested in getting the original data from the source, that's where our data comes from: raw data.
